Hi Trevor,

Thanks so much for the opportunity to speak with the Barrett Nursing staff on Monday. The staff gave me great insights into the work they do and have continued to email me further thoughts over the past couple of days.

A message the nurses particularly wanted me to pass on was that the uncertainty of if Barrett was closing or not was causing most angst amongst the staff. They felt that if they knew for certain that it was closing then they would be able to move forward and think about their own futures and plan for the young people.

Could I advocate that a decision be made ASAP re the outcome of Barrett and the staff be informed.

Can you pass on how impressed I and the rest of my team are regarding how dedicated and thoughtful the nursing team is. They are quite obviously passionate for the work they do, and highly skilled in the area of specialty they have chosen. I understand how stressful and distressing it is for them and I plan to video conference back with the team in the near future.

Thanks,

Emma Hart
