Hi Megan,

Thank you for your exceptional patience. From talking with payroll and recruitment, they are doing their best to get ahead of huge volumes of work. They have had a lot of staff cuts and leave is not backfilled. They are now facing a situation of resignations as they are finding the work volume to be impossible.

Not right or fair though Megan.

Could you let me know as soon as something hits your bank balance?

I noticed the 2014 adjustment. I think this is definitely going to be the end date for BAC perhaps? Records identify that you have permanency though, so don't worry.

Kind regards and thank you so much for your leadership and professionalism at this time.

Lorraine

Hi Lorraine

Thanks for this - hopefully something will be processed soon so payroll can start with payments. Just wondering why the end date was crossed off and changed to 30/01/2014 rather than 30/01/2019?

Thanks
